Donaghys ProEquine is a probiotic that aids the performance and temperament of horses. It is formulated to promote and provide beneficial microbes - a natural approach to improving digestion of horse feed during its relatively long digestion time in the hind gut of the horse.

- Boosts the gut microbe activity and also provides selected beneficial bacteria for enhancing the community of microbes that digest food and maintain the gut wall.
- Digestion of pasture, roughage and hard feed is improved markedly, leading to a healthy appetite and a willingness to perform.
- Improved production and uptake of energy, protein, vitamins and mineral nutrients puts the horse in the position to perform to its optimum.
- Assists horse in recovery from antibiotics

Food for thought

Feed will generally spend 30 hours in the digestive system of a horse. Around 80% of that time is spent in the hindgut. ProEquine helps the horse make the most of that time, deriving the maximum amount possible from the feed and reducing the impact of stresses and waste products on the horse.

INDICATIONS Suitable for all horses to help them get the most out of their feed. Ideal for treating horses that will not “clean up” their feed or which suffer from sweats or hot temperament when on working feed.

DOSE RATES Apply by oral drenching, addition to hard feed or through drinking water.

CONDITION	DOSE RATE (PER HEAD)	TIMING
Sports horse	50ml	Single dose - daily
Normal use	10ml/100kg body weight	Single dose - daily

ProEquine can help with dung firming during intake of lush pasture, or during unstable gut conditions. Digestion problems in horses can be caused by many factors including disease, seek veterinary advice if concerned, or problem persists.
